Broward County Commission Libraries Division Presents
Surviving America 101 at the Main Library on June 3

BROWARD COUNTY, FL – Stranahan High School students will meet for an informal storytelling session, "Surviving America 101" on Saturday, June 3, noon to 3 p.m. at the Main Library, at the Bienes Center, 6th floor. The Main Library is located at 100 South Andrews Avenue, Fort Lauderdale

The program will be opened by Broward County Library Teen Services Coordinator Gina Moon and Broward County Library Outreach Services Newcomer Programs Coordinator Gerard Campfort. Dr. Caren Neile, Director, South Florida Storytelling Project, Florida Atlantic University, School of Communication and Multimedia Studies, will host the event highlighting the students' personal storytelling abilities encouraging young people to share their own stories of life in America. A buffet lunch will be served at 1:15 p.m. The program will close with remarks from Marion Williams, Resource Teacher, Bilingual / Foreign Language / E S O L Education Department, Broward County Public Schools.

Participants will receive gifts and library resources at the close of the session. Thirty students are expected to participate.

Sponsors for the event are Broward County Library Teen Services, Broward County Library Outreach Services, Broward Community Foundation, Broward Public Library Foundation, South Florida Storytelling Project/School of Communications and Multimedia Services at Florida Atlantic University.
